Be the Change is a national day of service, coordinated by South Asian Americans Leading Together (SAALT), that is held on campuses and in cities across the country. The event is based on Mahatma Gandhi's inspirational quote, “You must be the change you wish to see in the world,” and provides opportunities for South Asians to give back to their communities.

In 2009, over 3,000 people contributed 6,000 service hours in 70 cities and campuses across the country.

What are the goals of Be the Change?

- Encourage South Asians and others nationwide to collectively engage in community service
- Identify and develop leaders in the South Asian community across the country
- Foster effective partnerships with local and national organizations
- Build unity and collaboration within the South Asian community in the United States

What is the theme of Be the Change 2010?

This year’s theme for Be the Change is “Leading the Movement,” which showcases how individuals give back to their communities in the spirit of service and their commitment to creating lasting change beyond Be The Change 2010. This is an opportunity for South Asians across the United States to engage in collective public service activities that will lead to further civic engagement, collaboration, and unity.
